FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

QUINCY BUSINESS, PRISM ENERGY SERVICES, SAVING THE ENVIRONMENT ONE CUBICLE AT A TIME:

Prism Energy Services Relocating to New, Green Office Space at 1150 Hancock Street

November 4, 2009--Quincy, MA: According to recent statistics, the use of one green cubicle keeps over 500 pounds of metal, wood, rubber, plastic and fiberglass out of the landfill*. Prism Energy Services will be moving to a new location at 1150 Hancock Street by November 16, where their growing staff will be conducting business in new expanded digs, renovated using recycled cubicles and carpeting, energy efficient lighting, and low VOC paint.

"Being Seen As Green" continues to be the forefront of Prism Energy Service's mission, and this move is no exception. By creating environmentally friendly office surroundings, Prism will be keeping over 3000 pounds of waste from entering landfills and polluting the environment.

The new office will accommodate a growing staff of environmentally conscious employees who will be working to bring energy efficiency and renewable energy solutions to small and large businesses, supporting a quality business environment for customers, patrons and employees, while lowering monthly energy costs by an average of 30%.

Prism Energy Services is a leading energy conservation program administrator for New England utility companies and their customers. In addition, Prism works directly with commercial customers to reduce their utility costs and emissions through energy efficiency, discounted utility purchasing and renewable energy solutions.
